DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1, 5, 8, 10, 11, 13 and 16 are objected to because of the following informalities:

In claim 1, lines 6 & 7; claim 5, line 2; claim 8, lines 2 & 3; claim 10, line 5; claim 11, line 2; claim 13, line 2; and in claim 16, lines 2 & 3: The phrase --at least one-- should be inserted before the term “ventilation”. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wagner et al. ‘573. As concerns claims 1, 4, 10 and 11, Wagner et al. show the claimed limitations of a child containment structure (10) comprising: a floor (16); and a sidewall (22, 30) including at least one padded side panel (30) connected to the floor and defining a unitary structure with the floor, the sidewall including at least one side panel (32) formed at least partially of an air-restricting material (as described in column 4, lines 2-5) and at least one ventilation panel (36) positioned between the floor and the side panel, the at least one ventilation panel having a maximum height smaller than that of the side panel (as shown in Figures 1-5), the at least one ventilation panel permitting air flow between an interior of the containment structure and an exterior of the containment structure along a sleeping surface of the child containment structure (as shown in Figure 4 and as described in column 4, lines 25-27). With regards to claims 2, 3 and 12, the reference is considered to show the use of a mattress pad (24) positioned above and padding (24) included with the floor in Figures 1, 4 & 5 and in column 3, lines 51-52. With regards to claims 5 and 13, the reference is considered to show a condition wherein the at least one ventilation panel comprises at least one of mesh and a perforated rigid material in column 3, lines 60-61. As concerns claims 6 and 14, the reference discloses a condition wherein the sidewall includes at least four side panels, and wherein the at least one ventilation panel includes at least four ventilation panels, each of the ventilation panels positioned between the floor and respective one of the side panels (see Figures 1, 4 & 5). With regards to claims 7 and 15, the reference is considered to show a condition wherein the at least one ventilation panel comprises more than one ventilation panel positioned between the floor and the side panel in Figures 1 & 6-8. As concerns claims 8 and 16, the reference discloses a condition wherein the height of the at least one ventilation panel varies along its length, and the maximum height of the at least one ventilation panel is smaller than a minimum height of the side panel (see Figure 7 and column 5, lines 3-6). With regards to claims 9 and 17, the reference is considered to show a condition wherein the at least one side panel comprises at least four side panels, adjacent ones of the side panels forming corners therebetween, and wherein the at least one ventilation panel includes ventilation material located at least of the corners in Figure 1 and in column 3, lines 56-61.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-8 and 10-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Burbidge et al. '304 in view of Schettler, Jr. '907. Burbidge et al. are considered to show all of the claimed limitations as recited in claims 1-8 and 10-16 (note especially Figures 1-3; column 1, lines 37-46 and column 2, lines 18-21) except for the condition wherein the at least one ventilation panel (26-29) comprises at least one of mesh and perforated rigid material. Schettler, Jr. provides the basic teaching of a child containment structure (62, 63, 72, 73) including at least one ventilation panel (80) comprising mesh material (as described in column 4, lines 10-12). The skilled artisan would have found it obvious at the time the invention was made to provide the child containment structure of Burbidge et al. '304 with at least one ventilation panel comprising at least one of mesh and perforated rigid material in order to maintain enhanced ventilation while ensuring that a child enclosed within the structure remains safely therein as desired.

Conclusion

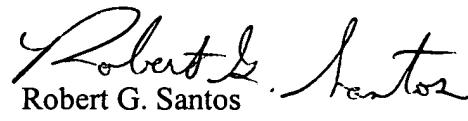

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hardy '263, Hartenstine et al. '570, Cheng '575, Wagner et al. '362, Warner, Jr. et al. '535, McCloud '101, Wang '218, Pine '216, Glassford '885, Gerhart '548, Tharalson et al. '349, Myers '465, Dillner et al. '111 and Dillner et al. '437.
